

BioSynt is a support that instead of EMF exposure, normalizes the tune of electromagnetic body and thus creates the conditions for the maintenance of normal communication between the body's cells, overcoming the difficulties caused by electromagnetic pollution and general conditions of stress.

BioSynt is not, in any way, a shielding element; It is effective in the prevention of neurodegenerative disorders caused by electrosmog, since it allows a stabilization of the body's resistance manifested by the rebalancing of altered autonomic points.

MEDICAL TEST BIOELECTRONICS EAV

The effectiveness of the devices is proven by medical skin bio-electronic measurements, with the medicine as a recognized method E.A.V. (Electro-acupuncture according to Voll).

The electrophysiological testing according to Voll is an e-test measures of the acupuncture points; the evaluated parameters are the conductivity and electric capacity. The points autonomic electro-acupuncture according to Voll (E.A.V.) correspond to the electrical functional regulation of the body and are the "entry point" into the body of the alterations by electrosmog.

The studies of Prof. R. Voll demonstrate that the biological and functional alterations of the living correspond to unstable changes in electrical conductivity of the neurovegetative points, better known as acupuncture points. So it is possible to monitor, in general, the electrical activity in the skin, to determine potential biological functional gaps, even when these should be related to factors unrelated to electromagnetic pollution.

MEDICAL DEVICE

"BioSyntonizer anti electrosmog"

Technology for the protection of the vital activities of artificial interference fields (electrosmog) and geopathic. The devices developed want to be an effective preventive support to significantly reduce the risk of potential health damage, caused by the prolonged exposure to these physical agents that could alter the biological functions of the living, as stated by the World Health. The technology with which are made exploits the physical properties of semiconductor microelectronic and special materials. The methods of imprinting supports are part of BioSynt Technology.

ELECTROSMOG

The electromagnetic pollution risk is perceived, with importance, since the early nineties, first in USA, then in Europe and in Italy, in connection with the spreading trend of mobile devices and their repeaters. Scientific research, often financed by manufacturers and mobile operators, has been strongly influenced by reticence and instrumentally prudent, summary and superficial informations.

THE SYMPTOMS WIDESPREAD

Headaches - Migraines - Neuralgic pains
Sleep disorders - articular disorders
Stress - exhaustion - Anxiety - Depression
Food intolerance - Poor digestion
Chronic pathologies also very serious

However from 2011 the attention and sensitivity on this issue have been characterized by significant acceleration: The research was supported by independent institutions and universities around the world, particularly in northern Europe, the World Health Organization and International agency for Research on Cancer that are expressed in the most authoritative, clear and meaningful way. The case law, even in Italy, has recognized the causal nexus of disability in place judicial and European legislation enacted an important EU directive in this merit (EU 35/2013).

In the spring of 2015 the most illustrious Italian researchers in concert with recognized associations, were promoters, actors and underwriters of an important document for the highest offices of the Italian state and the European Parliament. Of course, progress is unstoppable and moves with exponential trend, with the spread of wireless technologies and with a further strong increase in energy demand. Since electricity is considered the energy with greater environmental sustainability, thanks to alternative and renewable energy sources, we can predict what will be the trend of electrosmog?

CHARACTERISTICS

The BioSynt medical device consists of a support for personal protection with a radius of 3 meters of action, it is made of different models named The BioSynt medical device consists of a support for personal protection with a radius of 3 meters of action, it is made of different models named Dream, Harmony, Memory, Journey, Pulse, Cheops, Echo, Healthy, Pure, World to better adapt to habits and needs of the user.

They are realized with a radius of 3 m of exercise, so that when not worn, if placed in the immediate vicinity, allocated on an electrically powered device or stored in a pocket, the user make their function, as for example when it is sleeping, or stationed in their workplace, even for those who can not wear badges, bracelets, rings and pendants, for reasons of hygiene and/or of safety. All BioSynt models, despite being considerable microelectronic instruments, appear as amorphous, are so-called passive devices and are not powered by electricity sources, do not interfere in any way with electronic equipment and do not have side effects. The simultaneous use of multiple devices BioSynt, does not involve any kind of interference, nor any advantage for the user. The technology with which they are made is joinable, by analogy, to RFID, but is not, in fact, in any way, connected to it.

Independent of the use of BioSynt supports, are recommended in all cases, precautions, more cautious habits and behaviors and conscious in limiting, as much as possible, the exposure to electromagnetic radiation produced by modern technology and by an electric current powered instruments.
